The party began with welcoming children and mothers. All the mothers were interacting with the teachers by telling them about their leisure time activity and in few words describing their personality. Children did action song. All the children jolly well played musical chair. Some of the children told the story with enactment. A cup of tea was served to all the mummys. A packet of cookies were distributed to all.

At the end of the session, teachers thanked to the students and their mothers for sharing their precious time. Children received gifts as a token of love from the school.
