AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A PENCIL

I'm a pencil. I was born in a big factory. I have names like Atlas, Mango and Nataraj. I'm made of wood and graphite. I'm thin and long. They wrap my body in coloured paper. After that they pack me into a lorry, and the driver takes me to many book shops. I met many friends like rulers, erasers, pens and colour pencils.

Some children love me but some children don't. Some children get angry with me when the graphite point breaks. When I'm short some children throw me out. Some children keep me in a box. Doctors, singers and engineers came to their current positions with my help. I'm proud to be a pencil. I love to help children.

Morally Speaking

Attitude is Inside

There was a man who made a living by selling balloons at a fair. He had all the colors of balloons including red, yellow, blue and green. Whenever his business was slow he released a helium filled balloon into the air and when the children saw it go up, they all wanted to buy one. They would come up to him, buy a balloon, and his sales would go up again. He continued this process all days. One day he felt someone tugging at his jacket. He turned around and saw a little boy who asked, "if you release a black balloon, would that also fly?" Moved by the concern the man replied with empathy, "Son, it is not the color of the balloon, but what is inside that makes it go up".
